Spanish/Summer courses

Exchange students may pursue a free non-credit Spanish course for a term. The number of places is very limited, so to qualify is mandatory to take a placement test. Groups will consist of a maximum of 30 students.

Our university offers summer courses in various faculties of the UAM. These courses start in June, with different lengths depending on the course. Some are 4 days, others are 2 weeks. The last course will end in September.

On the link below you can find more information about the summer courses of 2015. This is to give you an idea of what we have to offer in the summer. During the year we will update the page.

Facilities of the Faculty of Economics and Business

Our faculty offers a very active service of information, both in person and online (<http://www.uam.es/ss/Satellite/Economicas/es/home.htm>)

The Information Office for Students is located on the 2nd floor of the Faculty building. The office can also be contacted via telephone (+34 914977070) or via email (informacion.estudiantes.economicas@uam.es).

Practicum

The Faculty offers its students the possibility of informing themselves, getting in touch with, and doing internships in prestigious companies, at the same time that they continue their studies. UAM is very committed towards the future of its students, so it also offers an Employment Forum, a Virtual Employment Forum and the COIE (Centre for Orientation and Information about Employment), where most students can be awarded with an internship within the University. For additional information students can go to the Practicum Office, which is right next to the Information Office.

Library

Another important facility of the Faculty is the Library. Its content ranges from Economic Analysis, Applied Economics, Economics Structure, Commercial Research, to Sociology and Tourism.

Also, the Library displays a great variety of media: printed books, electronic books, magazines, theses, reference works, database, special materials, etc. Another feature of the Library is the large list of courses it offers for students, professors and researchers alike, in multiple themes. Moreover, the Library has a Statistics Documentation Centre and lends laptops to students.

Most professors leave their notes and class material in the Photocopy Room, called here 'Reprografía'. It also offers students the possibility to print documents from USB keys, CD-ROM, bind their essays, etc... at a cheaper price than in town.

Throughout the Faculty there are several Study Rooms, designed for group work and very popular during the exam period.

The IT Rooms are also a favorite among students, and offer a range of courses and IT services, with more than 900 computers on campus.

There are two cafeterias inside the Faculty, both with lunch service. Also, there are dining halls with microwaves where students can heat their own food. These halls are open from 13 pm to 16 pm.

Student life at the faculty

One of the peculiarities of student life at UAM is the vast number of organizations, courses, conferences, activities, etc., designed for and by the students themselves.

The width of the thematic interests of these associations and the acts they promote can be understood by just looking at the list of the ones present at the Faculty of Economics:

*international platform that seeks to create a positive impact on society
- Student association Circle 2000
*directed towards the promotion of liberal economics
- Economics' students association Aee
